

MILITARY HOUSING
Liability Insurance

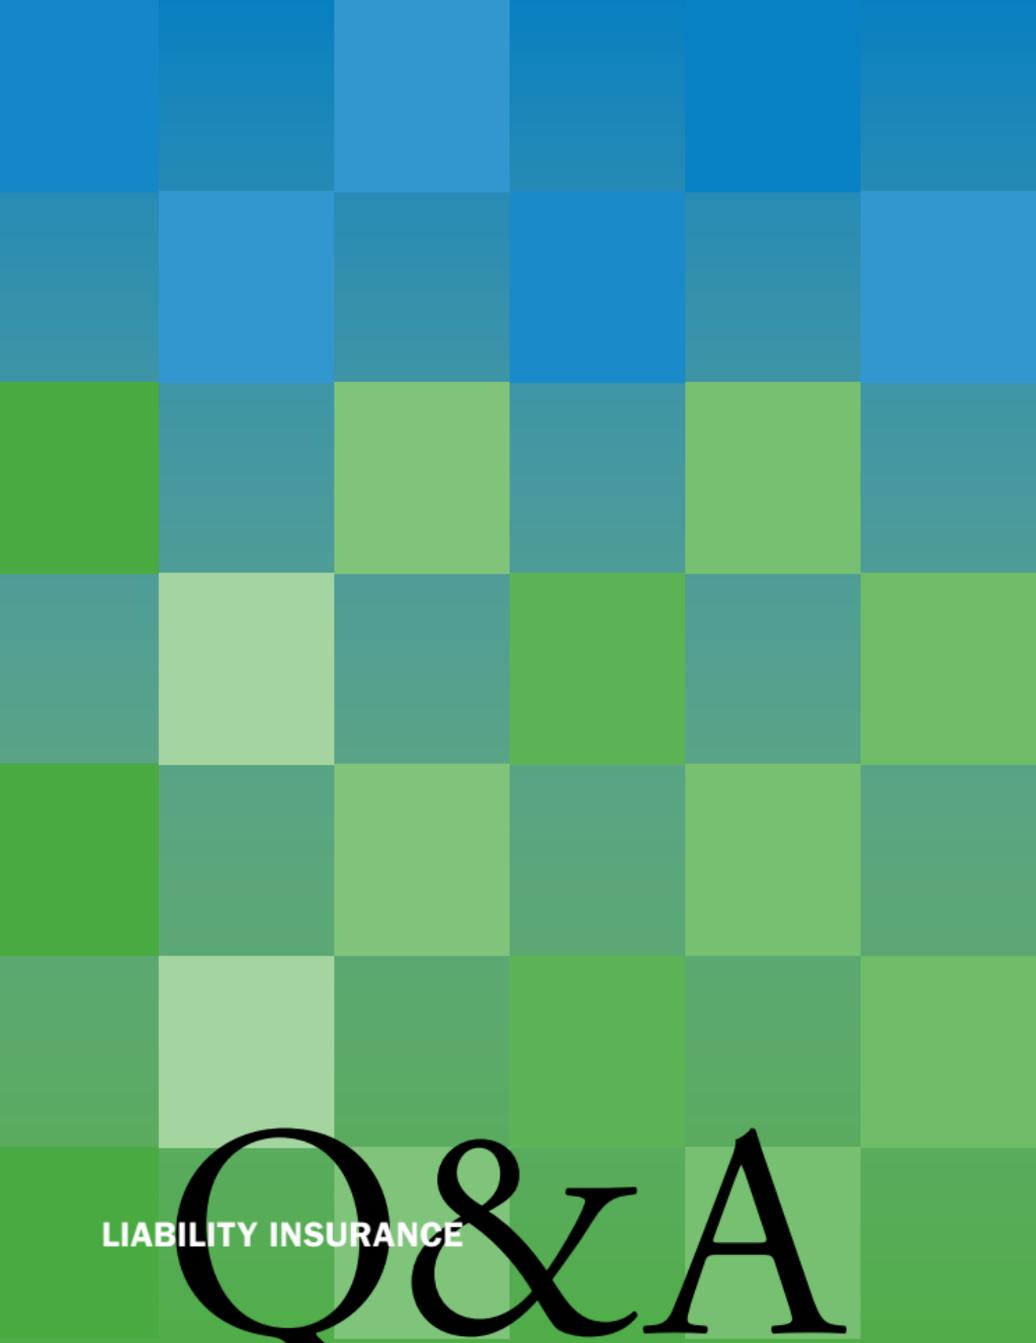

liability

 Alliant

Native Insurance AGENCY

LIABILITY INSURANCE

Q&A

Welcome to the military housing liability insurance program. We look forward to serving you.

1 What is liability?

Liability is a legal responsibility.

2 What does liability insurance cover?

Liability insurance protects you from claims alleging that your negligence or inappropriate action resulted in bodily injury or property damage.

3 When might this coverage apply?

Examples of covered events include injury to others on your property and damage to the property of others.

4 Who has coverage under this policy?

The resident of the military home and all family members who are authorized to reside in the home are covered.

5 What is the limit of insurance under this policy?

$100,000 per occurrence and aggregate per residence.

6 Is there a deductible for the coverage?

No.

7 If I have any questions about this insurance or about a claim, whom should I contact?

You should contact the insurance carrier.

This question-and-answer summary is intended to help you understand your coverage. The actual policy wording, and not this brochure, will be used to determine coverage and settle claims. Please refer to the policy for specific terms, conditions, limitations, and exclusions.

